Brrr! It's chilly at the North Pole! Imagine you're the Christmas weather reporter. Write or draw today's forecast — will it be snowy, frosty, or maybe a magical blizzard?

Your Turn

Elf Weather Report

“Good evening from the North Pole! Today’s forecast calls for heavy snow showers with a chance of candy canes falling from the sky.

Temperatures are freezing, so Santa will need his warm red coat and fluffy mittens. Reindeer are advised to wear extra scarves before flying practice. Tomorrow looks brighter, with sparkling sunshine and a magical rainbow over the toy workshop!"

Would You Rather - Christmas Edition

Activity 20

Circle your choice or write your answer. Be ready to explain why you picked it!

Would you rather open
all your presents on December 25th OR wait until January 25th and get twice as many?

Would you rather have
a carrot nose OR sprouts for ears?

Would you rather
have Santa stuck
in your chimney
OR an elf stuck
in your fridge?

Would you rather
sing "All I Want for Christmas Is You"
every day OR wear a Santa hat forever?

Would you rather
have Santa's laugh
(Ho Ho Ho) OR a big red nose like Rudolph?

Would you rather have
a snowball fight with elves OR a dance-off
with reindeer?

Would you rather live
in a gingerbread house
OR a giant Christmas
cracker?

Would you rather have
a pet penguin OR a pet polar bear for Christmas?

Would you rather eat
only Christmas pudding for a week OR only Brussels sprouts
for a week?

Roll-a-Story – Christmas Edition

Activity 21

This Christmas adventure could go anywhere... and it's all up to the die.

	Santa eats too many cookies and gets stuck in the chimney
	An elf invents a toy that won't stop giggling
	Rudolph dyes his nose blue by accident
	The Christmas tree sneezes and all the baubles fall off
	Frosty the Snowman drinks hot chocolate and melts
	The presents start arguing about who is the best gift

Instructions

- Roll one dice
- Match your number to the chart
- Use the idea to start your Christmas story
- Roll again and mix two ideas for extra fun

A Very Funny Christmas Recipe

Activity 28

This isn't an ordinary recipe — it's a magical Christmas one!
Use your imagination to mix silly ingredients and write funny cooking steps.

Reindeer Giggle Cake

Ingredients

- 3 cups of reindeer giggles
- 2 spoons of snowflake sprinkles
- 5 candy canes
- 1 handful of marshmallows shaped like stars
- 2 goose eggs

Cooking Instructions

Step 1: Mix the reindeer giggles and snowflake sprinkles in a giant bowl
Step 2: Stir with a candy cane until the mixture starts singing "Jingle Bells"
Step 3: Toss in the marshmallows and let them bounce around for 5 minutes
Step 4: Add the eggs and listen for a magical "Ho Ho Ho!" sound
Step 5: Bake in Santa's oven until the elves stop dancing
Step 6: Serve with extra sprinkles

Cooking Time: Until the elves stop dancing

Serves: A whole sleigh full of reindeer

Here is an example of a silly Christmas recipe to give you some ideas.

Get creative! When you have written your recipe, draw a picture of it to show what it looks like.

Christmas Symmetry (Penguin)

Activity 38

Draw the missing half of the penguin so both sides are symmetrical.
Add some eyes then colour it in to make it look festive and fun.

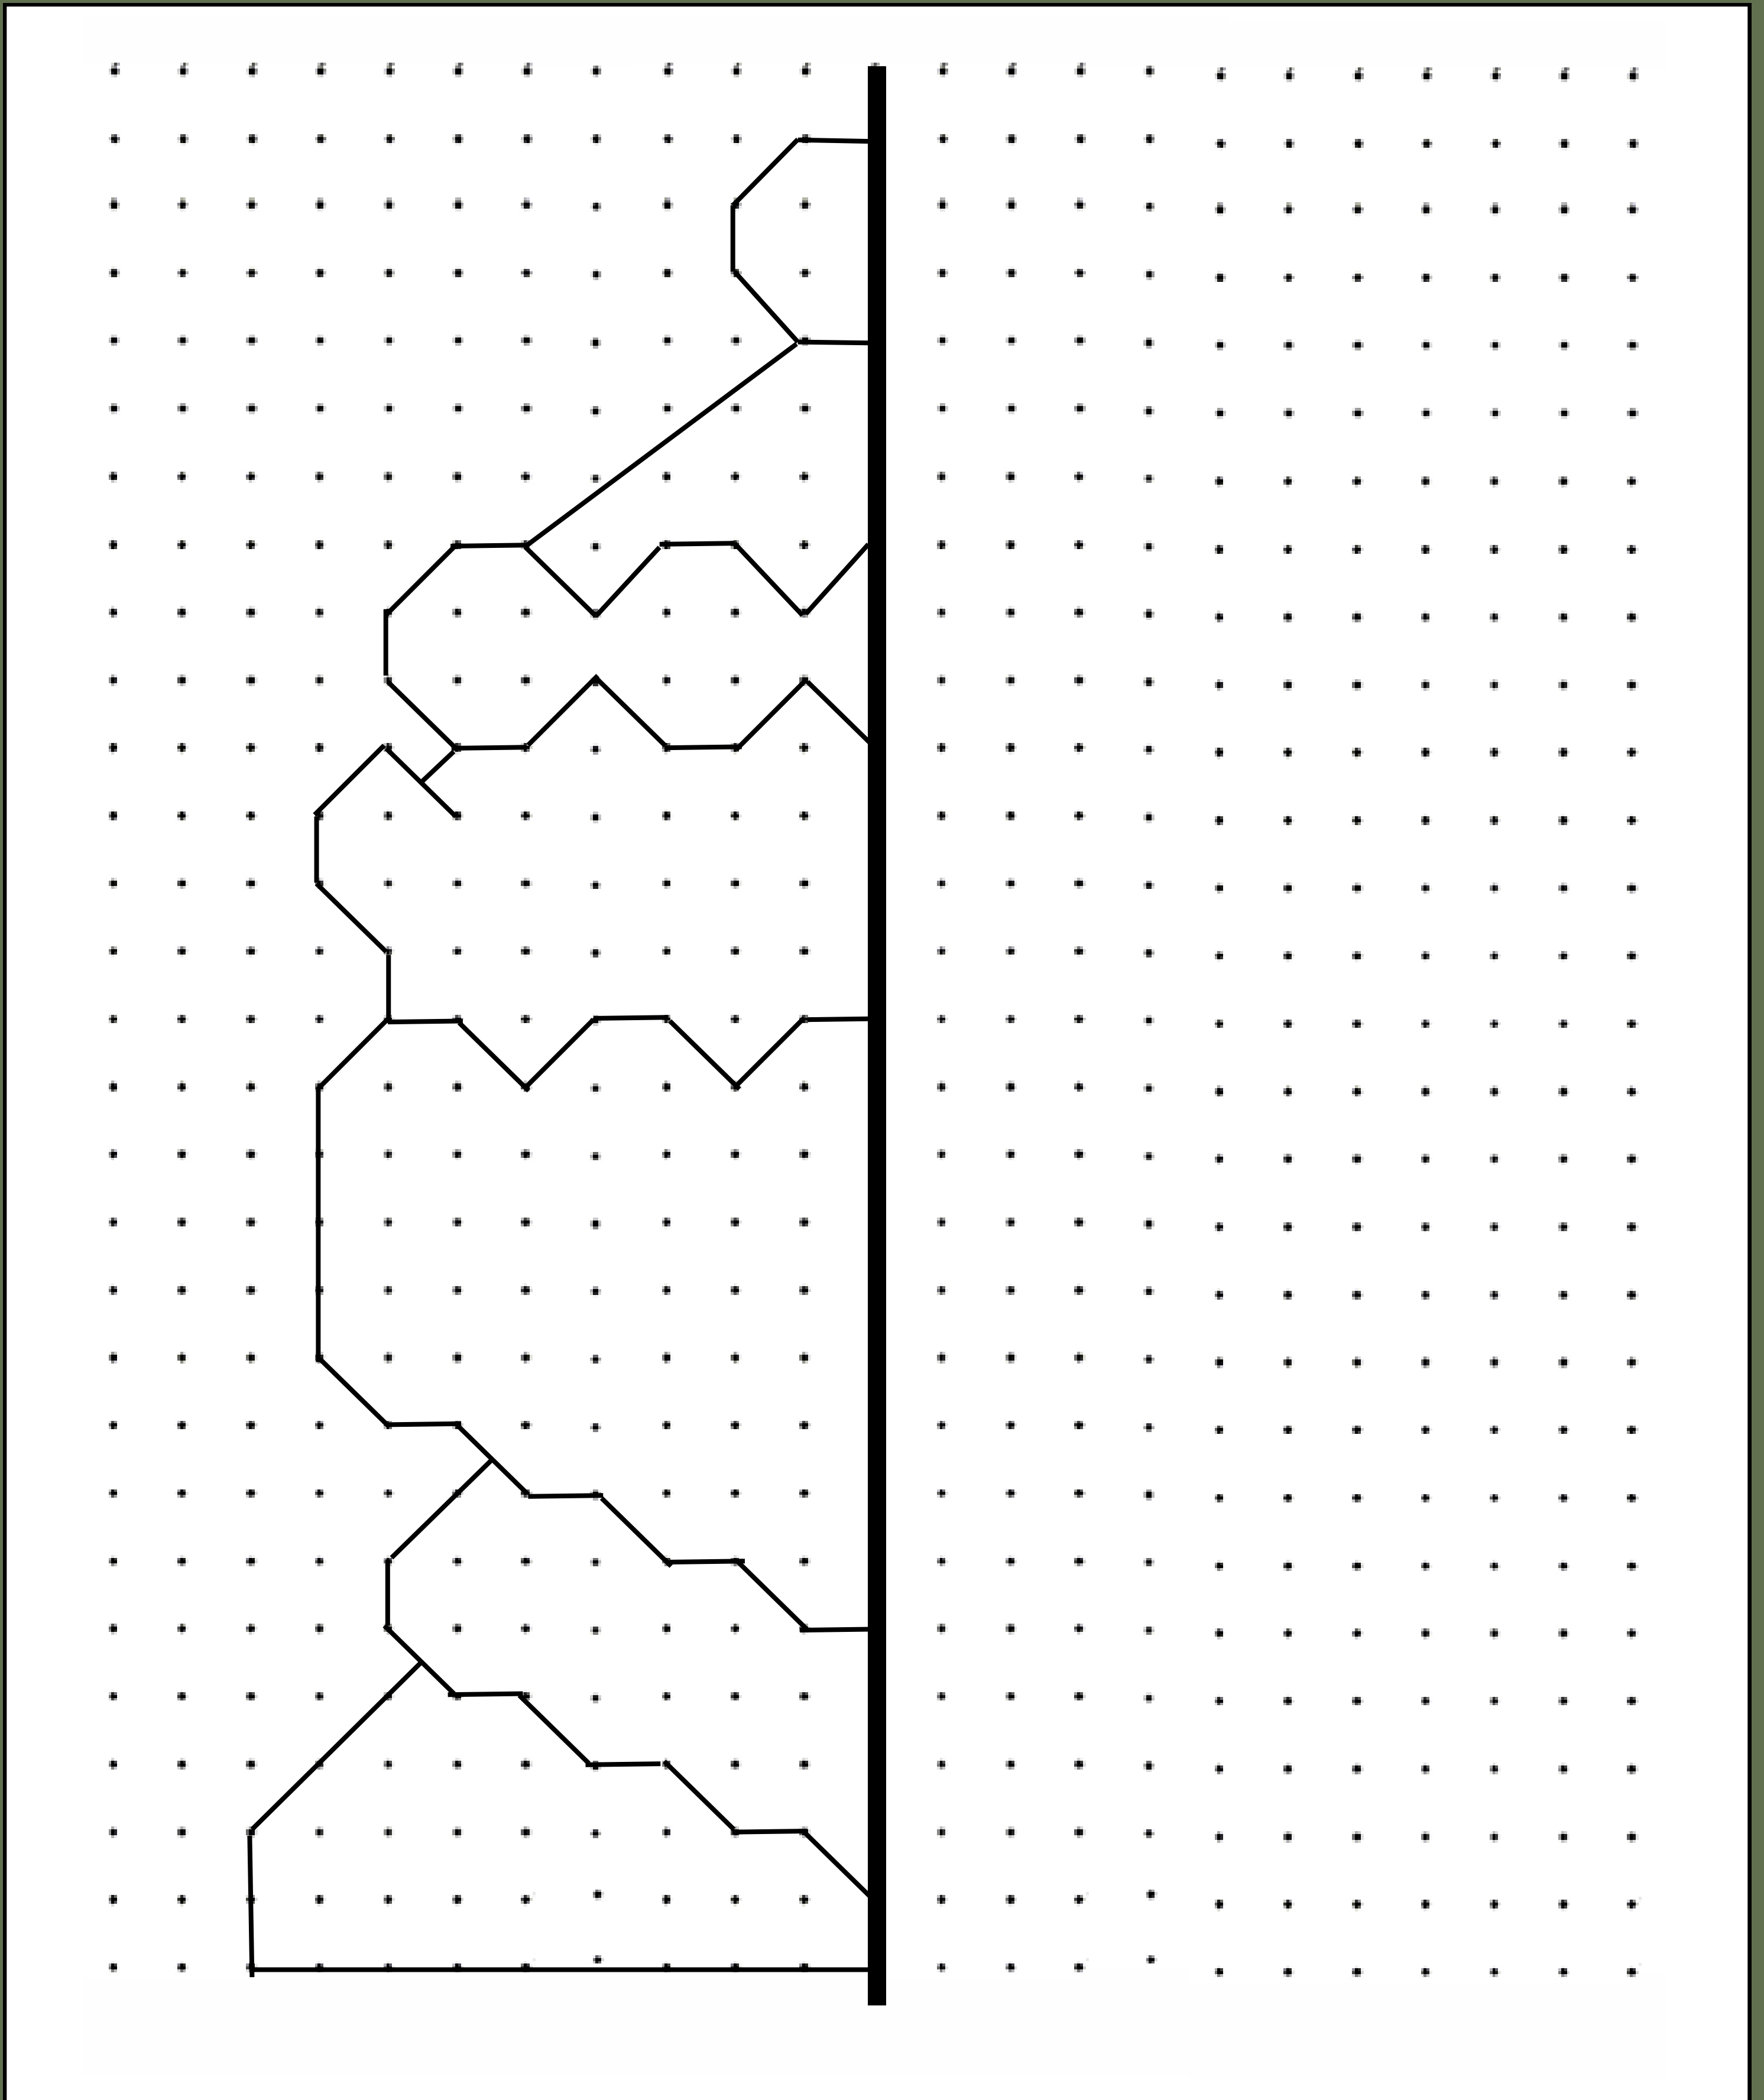

Christmas Symmetry (Santa Claus)

Activity 39

Draw the missing half of Santa to make him look the same on both sides.
Add his twinkly eyes, round nose, big smile, fluffy beard and then colour him in.

Christmas Symmetry (Elf)

Activity 40

Draw the other half of the elf so the whole picture is symmetrical.
Complete the face, then colour the hat, ears, and outfit in bright festive colours.
